Knowing how much to save for retirement can help you on the trajectory to meet your long-term goals. To be financially ready to retire, aim to have 10 times (10x) your final salary saved by age 67. Along the way, try to have the following multiples of your salary saved at each of your milestone birthdays: Age 60

Fidelity suggests saving at least 15% of your income for retirement, including employer contributions. If you're off track consider:

- Saving enough to get your full company match.
- Increasing your savings rate by at least 1% every year.

These simulations take into account the volatility that a typical target date asset allocation might experience under different market conditions. Volatility of the stocks, bonds and short-term asset allocation might experience under different market conditions. Volatility of the most recent year-end data available from Ibbotson Associates, Inc. Stocks (domestic and foreign) are represented by Ibbotson Associates SBBI S&P 500 Total Return Index, bonds are represented by Ibbotson Associates SBBI U.S. Intermediate Term Government Bonds Total Return Index, respectively. It is not possible to invest directly in an index. All indices include reinvestment of dividends and interest income. All calculations are purely hypothetical and a suggested salary multiplier is not a guarantee of future results; it does not reflect the return of any particular investment or take into consideration the composition of a participant's particular account. The salary multiplier is intended only to be one source of information that may help you assess your retirement income needs. Remember, past performance returns for actual investments will generally be reduced by fees or expenses not reflected in these hypothetical calculations. Returns also will generally be reduced by taxes.
